Understanding, appreciating and celebrating multiple cultures has been my interest since little due to my growing - up experiences in Taipei, Taiwan. Exploring individual identities, attributes, interests and skills in a balanced and quality life is also something that I have been passionate about. Therefore, I chose to be a language teacher and an educator as my career because I believe that these two roles not only can full fill my interests but also help me achieve what I have been striving for - developing myself and creating possibilities for people around me in this substantial world.

My working experiences are as below:

Mandarin B (IB/MYP/DP) teacher at The International School of Amsterdam.

Mandarin enrichment and after-school Chinese programmes teacher at secondary in the British school of Amsterdam.

Mandarin teacher in the primary section at the Taipei European school.
