I have been working as a high school language teacher and teacher trainer for almost 20 years. Recently, I have focused on providing advice and professional support to help teachers with their curriculum development in various Taiwanese high school. English teaching in Taiwanese high school is changing from sentences or paragraphs reading and writing into omnidirectional language competencies. Teachers need to design their teaching activities based on communication and higher order critical thinking skills. That is a holistic shifting from different end of curricular spectrum.

Through many workshops and lectures, I work with teachers assisting them to acquire more inspirational and insightful core concept of their curriculum. This process is very encouraging and passionate. I really see the light of education.
