Ms Hsin-Ju Lin is a teacher librarian, a reading specialist, a curriculum leader as well as a trainer from Taiwan. She had been working as a teacher and school administrator for more than 10 years before she has become a teacher-librarian since 2009. Besides working as a full-time teacher librarian in a primary school, she has translated 6 books from English to Mandarin on teacher professional development with themes such as Multiple Intelligence, Self-Regulated Learning and Imagination in Education for a well-known publisher in Taiwan.

She has also been invited to be a guest speaker in various training, workshops, seminars, talks and conferences in Taiwan and Mainland China, regarding teacher librarianship and integrative inquiry-based learning. Her major study interest is in information literacy, teacher-librarianship and 21st century educational needs.
